Miss Daingerfield made her debut in this city two years ago, since which she has spent much time in Baltimore as the guest of her aunt, Mrs. George C. Jenkinson, and her cousin, Mrs. R. H. Bates. She is handsome and accomplished and has traveled extensively. Miss Daingerfield's family is one of the oldest in Virginia, and through her mother, who was Miss Virginia Key, her Maryland connections are equally prominent.

Mr. Rasin's ancestry is of equal distinction, his family being identified with the colonial history of Maryland. His mother was Miss George, a descendant of the old English family of that name.

This will be the second marriage between the two families. Mr. J. S. Harbison Daingerfield, brother of Miss Daingerfield, having married Miss Alice Rasin, the sister of Mr. Carroll Rasin.

Mrs. John Fote will be at home tomorrow and the following Wednesdays in December and January.

Miss Margaret E. Gale, 1727 K street, entertained at a small luncheon yesterday.

The Phunny Phellows' Club gave a reception and a housewarming in their new clubroom, 709 Michigan avenue, last week. The club is decorated in the new club colors, orange and black. Mr. Frederick Guida sang several solos. Miss Roberta Iola Braddock presided at the piano. The president of the club, Mr. Arthur Carpenter, and his wife, just home from their bridal trip to Florida, received a hearty welcome and congratulations, as did Mr. William Jones and his wife, who are lately home from their honeymoon in Boston. In a descriptive comment Mrs. Carpenter and Mr. Edwin Marston won first prizes, while the consolation prizes fell to the lot of Miss Evelyn Williams and Mr. Martin McHugh.
